Mr. Agnar Wahlberg
Official Reporter
432 U. S. Court House
Los Angeles, California 90012

Dear Mr. Wahlberg:

Enclosed you will find two copies of the article which appeared in a 1960 edition of the Sagebrush. There would be no charge for this. Also enclosed is a copy of our currency presently in use as well as a canteen card which was confiscated as contraband due to its improper use by an inmate. We can;t sell the canteen cards at the present time because we are audited and must account for all of them. However, on July 1, 1969, when a new series of cards will be issued we could sell the old issue for face value or whatever amount the buyer would care to contribute to the inmate welfare fund, which is where all proceeds of the sale of brass money and script goes.

Please make it clear that the conditions described in the enclosed article no longer exist. I refer specifically to paragraphs three and five. No one can purchase brass at face value or exchange this for U. S. currency. I have no knowledge as to the whereabouts of the cloth or web canvas bills.

We do have 140 sets of new brass and 150 sets of old brass which we would sell for $35 for old and $50 for the new.

Sincerely,

Carl Hocker
Warden
